Introduction

Hello! I'm Htet Myat Linn and strong spirited human being. As I am fond of design and development, started deep learning in frontend web design and prototyping.

Now I started to work as a freelance frontend developer in freelancing platforms. I don't want to define myself with the skills I am proud of. I like to define myself with the ideas I want to build.

As I am unfulfilled with my acquired abilities, I prefer learning new technologies throughout my whole life.

Life Journey

After I passed matriculation examination from my high school, I passed an entrance to attend one of the most famous computer universities in Myanmar, University of Information Technology Yangon (UIT), with the roll no. “7”.

During the university, I have learned fundamental web design theory and development and started freelancing.

As I am loving to collaborate with people and work with a united team, I am always searching for a team or internship programs.
